Plaintiffs,

v.

DEUTSCHE POST DHL and DHL EXPRESS
(USA) INC.,

Defendants.

Case No.: 13-CV-01471 (RJD)(JO)

DECLARATION OF TONI COON

I, TONI COON, declare as follows:

1. I am currently the Payroll Manager for GBS HR Operations, Americas, employed by Exel Inc. GBS HR Operations provides payroll and related back-office support services to Defendant DHL Express (USA), Inc. ("DHL"). I have held this position for approximately 6 months, prior to which my title was Payroll Supervisor, a position I held for 8 years. Along with my team, I am responsible for providing consulting and related back-office support services for timekeeping at DHL Express (USA), Inc. I make this declaration in support of Defendant DHL Express (USA), Inc.'s Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion for Conditional Certification and as it relates to Clearance Agents and Senior Clearance Agents at DHL's gateways at JFK, Miami ("MIA") and Los Angeles ("LAX"). I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth in this declaration and could and would testify thereto if called upon to do so.

2. Since 2008, DHL has used an electronic timekeeping system called Kronos at JFK, MIA and LAX.

3. DHL provides Clearance Agents and Senior Clearance Agents (“Agent” or “Agents”) at JFK, MIA and LAX a card to swipe on a Kronos time clock, which stores each time the person clocks in or out. Each site has different “rules” programmed into Kronos over different time periods for different Agents, including “rules” at the start of the shift and “rules” concerning meal breaks.

4. The work schedules of some—but not all—Agents are manually pre-entered into Kronos. Local management at JFK, MIA and LAX decide whether to add any particular Agent’s schedule into Kronos. To my knowledge, some do and some do not. If an Agent’s schedule is added to Kronos, then the individual has a “scheduled start time” and a “scheduled end time” on their Kronos record for each workday. If an Agent’s schedule is not added to Kronos, then he or she does not have a pre-programmed start or end time on their Kronos record. In such cases, the Agents’ time would be recorded minute-to-minute. Where the schedule is input in to Kronos, then that Agent’s time would be rounded subject to the Kronos “rules” in place at the time for that particular Agent at that particular site.

5. The supervisors and/or managers of Agents at each site input schedules into Kronos (or not, depending on the manager), change the schedules over time as schedules change (or not, depending on the manager), and monitor work hours. They review Agents’ time reports in Kronos and confer with Agents to resolve any discrepancies on a daily, weekly and/or pay period basis (depending on the supervisor). For example, if an employee forgets to clock in or out, the employee might report this to his supervisor, and his time entries in Kronos can be manually created. Based on my experience, some employees report such items to their managers and some do not – it depends on the employee.

6. DHL generates paychecks based on Kronos records (card-swipe times at the scanners, as manually adjusted by supervisors on occasion). Accordingly, all Agents are paid based on their Kronos entries.

7. No corporate-wide, “universal”, or “uniform” grace period policy exists at DHL. To my knowledge, each facility decided whether it wanted to implement grace periods, and if so, the length of each grace period. I have reviewed time records for each of the sites at issue in this lawsuit. During the applicable time, JFK, MIA and LAX used different “grace periods” for timekeeping purposes. Specifically, depending upon the facility, a grace period of 10 or 30 minutes occurred at the start of each work day, for some Agents. Under each facility’s rules, Agents are not permitted to work during the grace period, but they are permitted to voluntarily punch in during the grace period.

8. There is no “universal” automatic meal break deduction for Clearance Agents at JFK, LAX or MIA. During the relevant time period, and based upon my and my team’s review of time records of the employees at issue, over a dozen different pay rules for meals affected Agents at JFK, LAX and MIA.

9. Agents at JFK and MIA are unionized, so pay practices for these employees are governed and influenced by the various collective bargaining agreements in place.

JFK – Grace Periods

10. At the JFK facility, if there is no schedule manually input into the Kronos timekeeping system for an Agent, then all pre-shift time is recorded minute-to-minute, and no “grace period” applies.

11. At JFK, if an Agents’ work schedule is programmed into Kronos, then a “grace period” at the beginning of the shift allows for Agents to voluntarily punch in up to 10 minutes early. If an Agent works before his scheduled start time i.e., during his grace period, and he was either asked by management to do so, or informs management he did so, management can make an adjustment in Kronos so that the Agent will be paid for that time worked during the grace period.

12. If an Agent at JFK punches in more than 10 minutes before his shift start time, then his time is recorded minute-to-minute from the punch. For example, if an Agent subject to the grace period at JFK is scheduled in Kronos to begin work at 10:00 a.m., and she punches in at 9:56 a.m., this is during the grace period, and her time will be adjusted in Kronos to the 10:00 a.m. start time (she would be paid from 10:00 a.m. onward). If the same Agent at JFK had punched in at 9:49 a.m., then her time would be recorded minute-to-minute and not adjusted to the 10:00 a.m. start time, and she would be paid from 9:49 a.m. onward.

LAX – Grace Periods

13. At LAX, if there is no schedule put into Kronos for an Agent at LAX, then all pre-shift time is recorded minute-to-minute.

14. At LAX, if there is a schedule put into Kronos, then there is a grace period at the beginning of the shift that allows the Agent to voluntarily punch in up to 10 minutes before his/her shift begins. If an Agent works before his scheduled start time i.e., during his grace period, and he was either asked by management to do so, or informs management he did so, management can make an adjustment in Kronos so that the Agent will be paid for that time worked during the grace period.

15. Until July 2013, there was a lock on the clock on the in punch, so that LAX Agents were unable to punch in more than 10 minutes before their shift start time without prior approval from management. JFK and MIA have never used a lock to prevent Agents from clocking in.

16. After July 2013, if an Agent at LAX punches in more than 10 minutes before his shift start time, then his time is recorded minute-to-minute from the punch.

MIA – Grace Periods

17. At MIA, if there is no schedule put into Kronos for an Agent, then all pre-shift time is recorded minute-to-minute.

18. At MIA, if there is a schedule put into Kronos, then there is a grace period at the beginning of the shift that allows MIA Customs Brokerage Agents to voluntarily punch in up to 30 minutes before his/her shift begins (versus the 10 minute grace period at LAX and JFK). If an Agent works before his scheduled start time i.e., during his grace period, and he was either asked by management to do so, or informs management he did so, then management can make an adjustment in Kronos so that the Agent will be paid for that time worked during the grace period. If an Agent punches in more than 30 minutes before his/her shift start time, the time is recorded minute-to-minute from the punch.

JFK – Meal Breaks

19. Agents at JFK have a 30 minute unpaid meal break. At JFK, timekeeping rules for this 30 minute meal break depend on whether the Agent is a full- or part-time employee, and whether DHL manually inputted the Agent's work schedule into Kronos.

20. For full-time and part-time Agents at the JFK facility whose schedule is not manually input into Kronos, time punches for meals are recorded minute-to-minute.

21. For full-time Agents at JFK whose schedules are manually input into Kronos, the following rules apply: (1) if there is no punch out for lunch, no time is deducted and time is recorded minute-to-minute; (2) if there is a punch out/in for lunch that totals less than 30 minutes, the punch is rounded to 30 minutes, and DHL expects the Agent to perform no work until the 30-minute unpaid lunch period expires; and (3) if there is a punch out/in for lunch that totals more than 30 minutes, the punches are recorded minute-to-minute.

22. For part-time JFK Agents whose schedules are manually input into Kronos, those that work the 2:00 am to 7:00 a.m. shift are assigned a specific pay rule in Kronos, under which punches for lunch are recorded minute-to-minute. For all others, the above-described meal break rules for full-time Agents apply.

23. Applying the above rules, if an Agent at JFK does not punch out for lunch and works through lunch, he or she is paid fully for that “worked lunch.” If an Agent punches out for her 30 minute unpaid lunch period, but her lunch is interrupted and cut short by a directive from a manager that they return to work, the manager can make an adjustment in Kronos so that the Agent is paid for the time she worked during her meal period and the time does not round to the full 30 minutes.

MIA – Meal Breaks

24. At the MIA facility, meal break timekeeping rules depend on whether the Agent whose schedule was manually input into Kronos, whether the Agent is a full- or part-time employee, whether the Agent remembered to clock out to take a meal break, the hours worked in a given day, and what period of time is being considered.

25. Full and part-time Agents who worked at MIA for whom a schedule was not manually input into Kronos, time punches are recorded minute to minute. Hence, no rounding of meal break times occurs.

26. For full-time Agents at MIA whose schedule is input into Kronos: (1) between March 2010 to July 2010, all time was recorded minute-to-minute; (2) from August 2010 to the present, if the Agent has been on the clock for at least 4 hours, regardless of whether the Agent punches out for lunch, DHL automatically deducts 30 minutes; and (3) from August 2010 to the present, if the Agent has been on the clock less than 4 hours, regardless of whether the Agent punches out for lunch, time is recorded minute-to-minute.

27. For part-time Agents at MIA whose schedules were manually input into Kronos, if they: (1) work more than 6.5 hours and punch out for less than 30 minutes, then meal break punches are rounded to 30 minutes; (2) work less than 6.5 hours and punch out/in for meals, then time is recorded minute-to-minute; (3) work less than 6.5 hours and do not punch out/in for lunch, then no time is deducted; and (4) work more than 6.5 hours and do not punch out/in for lunch, then DHL automatically deducts 30 minutes.

28. If a MIA Agent works during his lunch, and Kronos has deducted time, the Agent can inform his manager and the manager can make an adjustment to cancel the deduction.

LAX – Meal Periods

29. Full and part-time Agents who worked at LAX for whom a schedule was not manually input into Kronos, time punches are recorded minute to minute. Hence, no rounding of meal break times occurs.

30. At the LAX facility, for all Agents whose schedules were manually input into Kronos, five different meal break rules have applied to Agents during the relevant 3-year statutory period.

31. At LAX, from January 2010 to August 21, 2011: (1) if there was no punch out for lunch, time was recorded minute-to-minute, and no time was deducted; (2) if there was a punch out/in for lunch that totaled less than 30 minutes, the punch was rounded to 30 minutes, but DHL expected the Agent to perform no work until the 30-minute unpaid lunch period expired; and (3) if there was a punch out/in for lunch that totaled more than 30 minutes, the time was recorded minute-to-minute, and no time was deducted.

32. At LAX, from August 22, 2011 to the present, by comparison, meal break punches are recorded minute-to-minute, with a three-minute grace period on the “in” punch (meaning that if an Agent punches back in from his 30-minute meal period late at 31 to 33 minutes, the punch rounds backwards to 30 minutes).

33. In addition, until July 2013, the LAX facility used a lock on the time clock that prevented Agents from clocking in from their meal breaks until at least 30 minutes had passed.

34. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a summary chart of the “grace period” and meal break rules that applied to Clearance Agents at JFK, MIA and LAX from March 2010 to the present.

35. Attached as Exhibit 2 is a true and correct copy of the Kronos Time Detail for Dionne Marshall for the time period from October 2008 – November 2012.

36. The summary at the end of Ms. Marshall’s Kronos Time Detail contained in Exhibit 2 shows that from October 2008 to November 2012, Ms. Marshall was paid for 1,232 hours of overtime (she worked 3,174 regular hours during this same time period).

37. Attached as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy of the Kronos Time Detail for Lucia Gomez for the time period from October 2008 – November 2012.

38. The summary at the end of Ms. Gomez’s Kronos Time Detail contained in Exhibit 3 shows that from October 2008 to November 2012, Ms. Gomez was paid for 490.78 hours of overtime.

I declare under penalty of perjury in accordance with the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed this 9 day of May, 2014 at Westerville, Ohio.
